

The Orchestra

Catherine Brentnall

Chorus

The orchestra,
Where instruments combine,
The orchestra,
Where great musicians shine.
From suites to symphonies,
In lots of diff'rent keys,
To op'ra and ballet,
So many styles they play.
Musicians at their peak,
With dazzling technique,
The instruments join forces in the orchestra.

Verse 1

Hear the violins,
Violas and cellos,
Double basses too,
The strings are played with bows.

Hear the woodwind now,
The flutes and piccolos,
Clarinets, bassoons,
And even some oboes.

© Song Source

Only to be used by subscribing schools and organisations

Chorus

The orchestra,
Where instruments combine,
The orchestra,
Where great musicians shine.
From suites to symphonies,
In lots of diff'rent keys,
To op'ra and ballet,
So many styles they play.
Musicians at their peak,
With dazzling technique,
The instruments join forces in the orchestra.

Verse 2

Now let's hear the brass,
The trumpets and trombones,
Tubas and French horns,
With full and rounded tones.

Finally percussion,
The timpani and gong,
Xylophone and bass drum,
And bells that go ding dong.

Chorus

The orchestra,
Where instruments combine,
The orchestra,
Where great musicians shine.
From suites to symphonies,
In lots of diff'rent keys,
To op'ra and ballet,
So many styles they play.
Musicians at their peak,
With dazzling technique,
The instruments join forces in the orchestra.

© Song Source

Only to be used by subscribing schools and organisations

